CROSS REFERENCE INFORMATION: Obviously, it is impossible to cross all the parts of any given manufacturer. Both our competitors and Coaxicom are constantly adding new parts, and updating the design of existing ones. We strongly encourage customers to contact us for parts not listed. We update our designs on a regular basis, add new ones, and occasionally change part numbers. Because of this, when you have crossed a competitor's part to a Coaxicom equivalent, please let us know both part numbers. This will help minimize misunderstandings and errors.

REVERSE THREAD AND REVERSE POLARITY: Many Coaxicom connectors and adapters are available in reverse polarity (RP) and reverse thread (RT) configurations identified by adding the suffix "RP" or "RT" to the basic part number. For example, a reverse polarity 3089-1-7 SMA plug would be a 3089RP-1-7, while the reverse threaded version would be 3039RT-1-7. They are also available in other series (Type N, TNC, and BNC). Consult factory for specific part number or type availability.
